BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Noé Quesada-Vázquez, MD, is an Associate Staff Physician in the Digestive Disease Institute at Cleveland Clinic Abu Dhabi, specializing in Gastroenterology. Prior to joining CCAD, Dr. Vázquez was a staff endoscopist at the Santa Isabel Clinic in Seville, Spain, where he performed complex endoscopic procedures for diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of conditions.

Dr. Vázquez has a specific interest in the treatment of pancreatitis, having contributed to several research projects related to acute pancreatitis and pancreatic disorders. He has also completed a clinical and research rotation in the Division of Gastroenterology at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, gaining experience in advanced treatments such as, total pancreatectomy and islet autotransplantation (TP/IAT).

Dr. Vázquez gained his medical degree from the University of Granada and worked as an occupational physician before completing a residency in general practice at the Virgen de la Victoria Hospital, Málaga, Spain. He also completed his fellowship in gastroenterology at the General Hospital of Alicante, Spain and his Master of Science in Clinical Medicine Research from Miguel Hernandez University, Alicante, Spain.
